Has DCFS come into your life, or are you afraid they might?

We are LADL, defenders of parents at Children's Court representing parents since 2006. Every question inspires a solution based answer.

LADL is here to share information, experience and empathy, in order to empower parents during the DCFS investigation process.
We have answers to your questions.

Calls will be answered by trained Parent Partners and advocates experienced with the dependency system. Callers will be provided with information, verified resources and strong empathy. Calls are anonymous and information is NOT shared with DCFS. Attorneys volunteer their time to this resource and are not guaranteed to be the same attorney to represent the caller in court. Los Angeles Dependency Lawyers (LADL) is an independent agency, is not affiliated with DCFS or any other social service agency.
